English vs American Etiquette.

(From All The Your Brees).) American gouldeman called upon a distinguished French tieneral in Paris, more than twice his age. To his amazement the call was returned the same day. In his own country no notice at all would most probably have been taken of a similar visit.

There seems a strange contrariety in the Washington and New York rules of etiquetic.
In the Empire city it is the lady who bows first, not ac in Washington, or in the exclusive circles of Virginia, nor among the members of w to be given at the instant of recognition thout besitation. There is also, between me several sections of American society, it unseitled controversy as to which is to oper arm to give a laily. New York stand-ons in decreeing the right as the most recertal. The left arm she says, "is too to r," but New York is not regarded as the s sate authority or matters of chiquette. rk says it is a matter of etsquette that every e descends a man-of-war before the comnder; but if a gentleman goes first it may be ter, is the considerate provision, as the lacus are not named. If America, cloquette squires dignities and official status to be par-cularized, as "the Rev. Mr. or Dr. Blank, of se Hon. Governor Dash," adding the name of

"He was a gentleman," said the mother afterward, "ac-credited to me by mutual friends, and I knew that my daughter could take care of herself." This incident was no outrage on American chi-quette. In America it is the custom for the young ladies of the family to give the balls, and it is not all necessary that you should be introduced to their parents.

The coronation of Nichotas 1826 was much less splendid; it had inde-been conducted amid circumstances of globeen conducted amid circumstances of gloom, not unlike those prevailing a short time ago. In 1823, the "League for the Public Weal," precursors of the Nihillsts, had organized a fermidable conspiracy against Alexander L. and the ringicaders; Batonkow, Rieliew, Kabowski and Baron Steinhell, had decided that the Cnar should be assassimated at Taganrog, where he was going to hold a review of treeps. Katowski had volunteered to strike the blow. The Crar arrived at Taganrog on the 29th of November, but died suddenly two days later. He was at core successful by his bruther Kichelias, who usurped the place of Constantine, the rightful, but less energetic heir; and on the 29th of December, the new Crar was within an acc of being murdered.

There had been some rumors of a rising of serfa, and the Crar marched forth with an army as if he were going to hattle. The corenation took place on the 3d of September, and when Nicholas left the Cathedral of the Assumption with his crewn on his head, "his face," wrote Alexandre Herzen, "locked hard as Siberian ice." The people were too riightened to cheer; they dropped on their knees, with their faces in the dust, "and this," said be Custime, with his light French sneer, a dozen years later, "has been their customary posture ever since."

The Halsted observatory, of the Princeton college, which was erected in 1800, at a cost of $50,000, and has since stood empty; now contains one of the three or four largest telescopes in the world. The total length of the large steel tube is twenty-night feet, the whole focal length of the telescope is thirty feet one inch. Its drameter in the center is thirty three inches, and the aim of the object glass, which he basis of contradicts in telescopes, is twentyof invitation. Since the time of the Homans large letters have been used for abbreviations, but American now uses email betters, no imagination distasticful to European eyes. There, too, it was rigid cliquette—as, induced, it was until quite hate years in this country absorbed end invitations and answers by hand; now, it at any distance, the medium of the post is permissible.
